BIOGRAPHY

DICKSON OWUSU MIREKU

“Naked i came from my mother’s womb and naked shall return there. The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord”.
Job 1:21 N.K.J.V

Mr. Dickson Owusu Mireku, fondly called Wofa Yaw Kaakyire by all who knew and loved him, began his earthly journey on November 9, 1961. He was born at the Baanor Maternity Home near the Mpraeso Roundabout. Yaw Kaakyire was born to Opanin Kofi Mireku (Nyankomago) of the Royal Asona Kokoben Clan of Mpraeso, and Obaapanin Dora Adwoa Konadu Apenteng of the Atibie Royal Ayokoo Clan.

He commenced his education at Mpraeso (Nana Ampadu Memorial Basic School), studying from Basic 1 to 5. He then moved to the Atibie Methodist Basic School where he successfully completed his Middle School Education leaving certificate (Form 4) in 1978. Due to his academic excellence, he was elected as class prefect and he also took part in sporting activities such as playing football. His colleagues liked to play with him on their team because he had a very powerful left footed shot anytime he was closed to the 18-yard box.

Seeking new horizons after school, Yaw Kaakyire left Kwahu for Accra to reside with his siblings in Asylum Down. He initially trained as an apprentice in auto mechanics. Seeking a steady path, he gained employment as a messenger at the Attorney General’s office, where he served diligently for a time.

Driven by an entrepreneurial spirit, he later left the civil service to work under the mentorship of Master Koo Kissi, a prominent automobile spare parts dealer at Abossey Okai, Accra. Yaw Kaakyire quickly developed a deep passion and sharp mind for the trade. Supported by his loving siblings, he successfully established his own spare parts business known as Intact Motors.

In 1987, Yaw Kaakyire married his beloved partner, Madam Augustina Ampomaa Wiafe. They began their marital journey in Soko, Accra, where they welcomed their first child, Elizabeth Akua Afrakoma Mireku. The growing family later relocated to Awoshie, where their home was blessed with two more daughters, Lawrencia Abena Korantengmaa Mireku and Bridget Ama Konadu Mireku.

In 1998, the family moved to Tantra Hills and two years later, their fourth child Frank Kwadwo Mireku was born. During this chapter of life, Yaw Kaakyire expanded his horizons into the transport sector by running a taxi business, while his wife expertly managed their spare parts enterprise.

Life brought a profound trial on July 14, 2010, when Madam Augustina Wiafe met her untimely demise after a sudden illness. Left to navigate this grief, Kaakyire showed immense strength and relocated with his children to Adenta, Accra. He dedicated himself entirely to guiding, supporting, and raising them through life's challenges.

In his later years, desiring the peaceful familiarity of his roots, Yaw Kaakyire returned home to Kwahu to settle. It was here, after a brief illness that he peacefully departed this life on February 15, 2026, at the Atibie Government Hospital.

Wofa Yaw Kaakyire lived a remarkable and honorable life defined by dedication, hard work, and an unwavering devotion to his family. Though, his mortal remains lie before us today and his physical presence is gone, his resilient spirit and enduring legacy will continue to inspire his children, family, and future generations.

May his gentle soul find eternal, perfect peace.

"The righteous man walks in his integrity; his children are blessed after him." — Proverbs 20:7

Agya Mireku, as we affectionately called you, you have brought us so much grief. Little did we know you would depart so abruptly. It is difficult to put these pieces together because every word we write is a drop of our tears. We miss you so dearly. We never imagined you would leave us this soon.

But we take solace in the fact that you are resting in the bosom of the Lord. Mr. Mireku, which part of our lives will you not be remembered for? If this was your destiny, then you lived it as a PRO. In fact, you were an angel of a father to us. Though Mum left quite early, you swallowed the grief for us and nurtured us so well.

Our many playful names for you — Honourable, Odiadeni, Grandpa — can never be erased from our thoughts. Who will we call to confide in when we need a counsellor and a confidant? Who will stand with us through thick and thin when the way looks wavy? Why did you leave when everything was drawing toward a victorious end.

Odiadeni, We miss you so dearly — for your popular saying

"Hw3 di3 oy3 ne ho" and all your funny sayings. Who will help us take care of your grandchildren, the ones you loved so dearly.

When you fell ill, we thought it was just one of life's mishaps. Little did we know it would be goodbye. Oh Honourable, you've left us stranded in our thoughts.

The fun moments, our quick arguments, the dance competitions, the cruises in town... your love for cars and phones, those sporty wears that were your trademark, your forgiving heart, your easy-going spirit. The memories are countless.

All we pray now is that since you're reunited with Mummy, you'll keep watch over us just as you always did here on earth.

Awww Agya Mireku, aww Odiadeni, awww Honorable..... may your gentle soul rest in peace.

REST WELL DADDY

GRAND - CHILDREN

To Our Super Grandpa

It's so painful to accept this reality. We were proud of our young grandpa, who we thought would see us grow up. Even though we called you Adenta Grandpa, you were father figure in our lives, the drop-offs and pickup from school, the constant check-in to make sure we were okay, you always stepped in as our traditional healer when our mums ran out of ideas and grew weary.

You were our shield when our mummies wanted to spank us. Even though we never got the chance to meet our grandma, your love and commitment filled that space. Thank you for being the most fun and loving super Grandpa in the world.

Ohhh Grandpa, who will save us when our mummies roar at us?
who will we share our stories to when we are back from school?
who will cheer us up when we excel academically?...

Grandpa, we will miss you so badly, but we know you're now an angel watching over us...

Goodbye Grandpa, we love you forever!

SIBLINGS

"How good and pleasant it is when brothers live together in unity! It is like precious oil poured on the head, running down on the beard..." — Psalm 133:1-2

"Asuo nie, Koo nie, Baffour, Ogyam, mekyia wo.
Meegye wo so."

This was our bond. This was how we greeted each other whenever we met, or whenever we spoke on the phone. Today, we repeat these words with heavy hearts, speaking into a silence that feels too heavy to bear.

Yaw Kaakyire—our beloved brother, our "Wofa Yaw" you may be gone from our sight, but you will never be forgotten. You will forever remain anchored in our hearts, living on in the memories that now hold us together.

Yaw was the gentle anchor of our family. He was a man of soft words, a fun-loving soul, and an unwavering seeker of peace wherever he went. None of us ever heard him raise his voice in anger. Instead, he was always respectful, deeply supportive, and completely selfless.

Kaakyire never said "no" to any task or errand. He was always genuinely happy to do anything for anyone, and he was always the very first person we called when we wanted something done right. Some of our fondest memories are wrapped in his beautiful humility.

SIBLINGS

Yaw always insisted on eating with us, his siblings, from the same bowl. He also possessed a heart of profound gratitude, forever appreciative of the smallest gestures. If you did even the tiniest thing for him, he would remember to say "thank you" every single time he saw you thereafter.

But today, we are left asking heavy questions that have no answers. Why did you have to leave us so soon? You have created a massive vacuum in our lives that will never be filled.

Your siblings from all sides are weeping today. We are drowned in an ocean of tears because we have lost the one who brought us calm when we were upset, and the one who comforted us in our own moments of sadness.

Where do we go from here? With whom do we share our worries now? You were our trusted advisor, our wise counselor, and the true unifier of our family.

Yaw, we love you so deeply, but we know that God Almighty loves you more. Today, we weep for a brother whose heart was pure, and whose love kept us whole.

May your gentle soul rest peacefully until we meet again.

Fare thee well, Kaakyire. Rest in perfect peace.

NEPHEWS & NIECES

To our Dearest Wofa Yaw,

You are the pillar of our family and the best uncle we could ever ask for. Your nieces and nephews hold you in the highest regard, and we want to thank you for the endless love, wisdom, and laughter you bring into our lives.

Your strength and presence give us a deep sense of security. Your advice always helps us navigate life's biggest challenges and your warmth and humour fill every family gathering with happiness. You always put our needs ahead of your own comfort.

We will live by the great examples you set for us. Our generation will always stand by you and support you.

We will never take your sacrifices for granted. We will cherish and honor you every single day.

Thank you, Wofa Yaw, for being our mentor, our protector, and our greatest champion.

We love you more than words can express.

TRIBUTE BY

KWADWO AMPADU

On February 15, 2026, I lost a man who meant the world to me. Earlier that day, I had the opportunity to speak with him, never knowing it would be our final conversation. His passing left a pain in my heart that words cannot fully express. The tears I shed are a reflection of the love, respect, and impact he had on my life.

Uncle Yaw was a man who equipped me with the tools to navigate through life. The discipline I carry, the respect I show others, and the humility that guides my actions were shaped through his teachings, guidance, and example. He did not just speak about values; he lived them. The person I am today carries a part of the wisdom and principles he poured into me.

Though my heart aches from losing him, I find comfort in the Lord's promise and the reminder that in all things, we should give thanks. I am grateful to God for the gift of his life, the memories we shared, and the lessons he left behind. I believe he is resting peacefully in the bosom of our Almighty Father.

Although he is no longer with us physically, his legacy will continue to live on. His kindness, wisdom, discipline, and the values he stood for will remain in our hearts forever. I will continue to honor his memory by living a life that reflects the lessons he taught me.

Rest well, Uncle Yaw. Your journey on earth is complete, but your impact will never be forgotten. You will always be loved, deeply missed, and forever remembered.

May your soul rest in perfect peace.

IN-LAWS

We, the in-laws, remember a kind, generous, and loving man who touched our lives in many ways.

Your presence in our family has been a blessing, and your love, guidance, and support will always be cherished.

Dad, you were a rock, a source of wisdom, and a heart full of love.

Your legacy will live on through the countless memories and values you shared with us.

We will miss you more than words can say, but we take comfort in knowing you're at peace. Rest in love.

With love and appreciation,
